usefully everything that contributes to the well-being of the hone is paramount in her mind.

"Since politics to-day enters so bringly into the interests of women, in the similarities and selected in the interests of women in the similarities and selections of the errors, larger and better equipped schools and the morality of the community, it should be the desire and duty of every woman to take an active part in political life.

"If she hesitates to do the work alone let ber affiliate with some eramination at carnest and intelligent women which is making a good fluint for wise and honear government. An arganization of that kind could have no higher object than to efficie women and children in the politics of the city, the State and the nation.

"Personality, I think that women can be very useful in politics, but they must use common sense and discretion.

"In our West End Republican Association, we intend to carry on a viscosus campaign for Mr. Low, he has given to the city, as Mayor, not only a splendid administration—at which every cluzes should feel justiy proud—but a strictly nonpartisan one. Then, tee, the re-essection of Mr. Low would mean the retention of that sarrost, efficient head of the Health Department, become lead in the Health Department, become lead in the world in that department alone, he wouldn't hesitate ore minute to can his vote for Mr. Low on November 1.

"It is because we women do knew about the good work done by these men that we retenting into the campaign with perhaps more carnestness and spirit than bas ever been known in a municipal election since our organization."

WOMAN'S IGNORANCE.

"In the heat of the campaign with perhaps more carnestness and spirit than bas ever been known in a municipal election since our organization."

WOMAN'S IGNORANCE

"In the heat of the campaign women an do very little toward swaying votes. and Mrs. Cornelia Robinson, 'and I base this statement upon ten years of active experience in political work by women.

The reason that women can accomplish so little in the way of alvancing their party's interests is because they know almost nething about politics. Of course, there are a few who can argue as learnedly and convincingly as men, but women in general, even some of those who do campaign work, are wefully ignorant about the groundwork and facts which help to win votes.

"In view of this lack of knowledge it is a waste of time for women to enter into political discussions and active work just during campaign time. To make headway means to keep up the campaigning all the year round, and then women will be able to sway the judgment of not one or two men, but hundreds.

"It is true that men go to bear women make speeches during campaigns, and they mid Mrs. Cornella Robinson, "and I base

HEALTH AND POLITICS. "Since the Health Protective Association has taken a stand for not entering the political campaign as an association be only as individuals that members can work for the election of their chosen can-didates," replied Mrs. Ralph Troutmain, president of this organization.

"The Health Probective Association is importison, but it knows throughly the work done by the Health and Street Clean-ing Separtments, and Individual members are encouraged to do all in their power to secure the retention of Doctor Lasheria and the re-election of Mayor Low, who have done good work, and to elect those whom they feel sure will maintain the same high standards."

The trouble is in the union camp. A local Matin, it is alleged, has been formed to either kill or drive Alfred the Mato, the official interpreter, out of town. De Malo says he recommended that the striking Italian glassblowers who have been paid wages by the union all summer and were goard duty ouring the winter. Discutisfaction was expressed and the next night a fuelflade of shets was fired into the roof of the camp building. There was great excitement and a hunt was in-stituted for the supposed secret enemies. De Maio charges that the guards did the shooting for the purpose of making the union managers believe their lives were in danger, and thus get relieved from duty. De Maio received a letter which reads as follows:

When I was first married I found that my strength and health were gradually diminishing. I became nervous and irritable, and was in bed a week and sometimes ten days of every month, and had intense bearing down pains.

My husband had the best physician for me and I used his medicine for nearly four months, but I gradually grew worse, had less strength, and, finully. I was unable to leave my bed at all.

A friend who was calling on me brought me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and was so loud in its praise that I told her that I would take it to please her.

I was surprised and pleased that before I had used the bottle I really felt that Jimely and better, so I kept on using it. Eight bottles brought back my lost health and strength, and I have not had a sick day in six months.

Mrs. Finnegan had little hope of relief because she knew that every time she had those spells of menstrual suffering with attendant bearing down pains she was weaker. And every month the pain was growing more severe. But Mrs. Pinnegan was cured by Wine of Cardui. She is now so well that there are few women who would not be glad to have the health she has. And any woman who has those dreaded bearing down pains You can be free from menstrual irregularities if you take this pure vegetable wine. Why don't you take it when you see
